TUESDAY, APRIL 21, 1863. We eall attention to the letter 'FIDLER' which we publish clsewhere. It turns out that our suspicion respecting the "VEDETTE" was correct.

An outery has been raised against Gen. Burnside's late Order, but not half so great a one as we expected. We don't know whether the tongues of rebel sympathizers are restrained by fear or by some higher and worthier consideration. If we thought a good deal better of them than we do we might probably conclude that they are kept partially in cheek by gent one in such an exigency as this would be weakness, imbecility, foolishness. There from these acts of outrage and vandalism should have been stringency a good while ago; there must be a vast deal of it now. oliey of the Confederney which is the idol of their worship, and into which they are seeking to incorporate Kentncky. Of course they are aware, that, during the last two years or for very nearly that period, all persons, not having taken tho oath of allegiance to the Confederacy, have, according to a law as "alien enemies." They are fully aware, that, if any man or woman should dare to talk for a single hour or a single minute in the Confederacy as they themselves have been and are habitually talking here, he or she would be summarily punished with rope, bullet, or exile. They know that these things are the established policy of their favorite section, and they exult in the knowledge. They are exhausting their mental and physical resources from day to day to force Kentucky into a condition in which all her Union people would be compelled to choose at onee between submission, death, and banish. ment, and yet they think it a terrible thing of the Federal Union, be permitted to live here tional, presumptuous, and insolent.

with the true Burnside vigor. It will do good. It will do what must of neecssity be done if we would save the country.

lf, as the Journal implies, all the Southern ights men will accept the Democrat's platorm, it does not prove we are secessionists ut that, as we have always declared, the peo ple of the South, as far as evidenced by Kentucky, will willingly accept a restoration upon the basis of principles advocated by the Democrat, and will not upon the Journal's platform—Louisville Democrat.

This last suggestion is plausible at least, since the new basis advocated by the Demoerat is the surrender of the government to the rebellion, whereas the Journal still advoeates with unabated earnestness the basis of the re-establishment of the government in its full constitutional integrity. No doubt the Jonrnal's platform is to-day aomewhat less eceptable to the rebels than the Democrat'a is. The rebels would be indeed hard to suit, if hey were not suited with their own platform. All they have demanded from the outset is to be let alone; and the Democrat now proposes o stop the war and let them alone. Our eighbor offers "restoration" on the "basia" of solution. The rebels "will willingly accept" the "basis" and let "restoration" take eare of itself.

Our neighbor talks about the willingness of he "Southern Rights men" to "accept the emocrat's platform". The language of our neighbor is adapted to create an erroneous imession. The "Southern Rights men" have ot accepted "the Democrat's platform", but, n the contrary, the Democrat has accepted he platform of the "Southern Rights men". Tho secessionists did not "accept the Demorat's platform"; they made it. The Demorat accepted it. Let the sequences of history e vindicated. The "Democrat's platform" is mply the latest of that series of masked orce or entrap the state into the rebel con- one. ble effect of the execution of the platform. This is the Union way. LOUISVILLE JOURNAL purely and openly secession that it falls still orn in the national arena. As a genera dalform it is a miserable abortion.

But it doubtless has vitality as a local play orm, commanding, as it does, the hearty upport of the whole seession elemen of Kentucky, with the prospect more or less ncouraging of insnaring the support of doubtful Uniou men; and it is especially as a local platform that it is designed by its anthors to aid the cause of the rebellion. The design is to sugar-coat the platform with men wh heretofore have acted as members of the Union party, and, taking advantage of the absence of forty thousand Union men in the field, t eize possession of the state government b lection, and afterwards wield the governnent, as events may dictate, for the promoion of the rebel cause. Such is unquestionably the design. We, however, by no mean cense our neighbor of having mny original part in this design. We do not accuse him of o much as being privy to it. His part though extremely useful, is as yet extremely humble. We simply look upou him as one of the men employed to sugar-coat the secessio olatform. He is in this business an instru ment not a workmau. We do him the credit o believe, that, in the heat of his persona ealousies and resentments, he does not com prehend the nature of the business he is per forming. Rut on this account he none th less effectually performs the business. The ontrary rather is true.

Be this as it may, however, the design of he seeession leaders of the state is plainly uch as we have stated it. This lact is undeniable. And this is the important fact in the case. Let all whom it concerns weigh it wel

The Washington correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, writing on this subject, says: "The loudest boasting has always come from South Carolina, and as we now recall what her citizens have done in the way of serious fighting, or in the way of shedding their excessively precious blood, what a pitiful result do we behold! Of the real natives it is difficult to designate a single man who has acquitted himself with credit. Even Keitt, Rhett, and Wigfall seem to have disappeared from public view altogether, and all auch men as Barnwell, Milea, Bonham, and McQueen have carefully kept out of harm's way by going to the Confederate Congress Remembering the terribly savage speeches that these men were wont to make when in Washngton, their subsequent eareful avoidance of old steel and leaden bullets on the fields of battle is not surprising. Like their allies in the North—the abolitionists—the lire-eaters of South Carolina have mastered the art of skulking, and the best men among the people in both sections have had to hear the brunt of

FROM THE TWENTIETH KENTUCKY INFANT-CAMP AT LEBANON, Kv., April 18, 1863. In looking over your valuable paper from ime to time, I always see more or less about every other regiment in the service of the United States except the 20th regiment Ken nucky Volunteer Infantry. This regiment has been in the field upwards of eighteen months Led by its gallaut and brave Col. or Lieut. Polonel, it passed through the baptism of fir and blood at Shiloh, on the memorable 7th of April, 1862; was in every skirmish before Corinth; fullowed Bragg in his invasion of our State, and was the eery last to engage his rear guard at Nelsou's Crosa Roads in Laure county. At that time our regiment belonged to the 22d brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen Cruft, Army of the Ohio. After our extraordinary march from McMinnville, Tennessee through Kentucky, we returned to Nashville and were there but a short while, before we were ordered to Bowling Green. Whilst at Nashville our regiment was very small, great many having taken French furloughs and gone home. However, the major portion of them have since returned and the fighting oth Kentucky begins to look as of yore. This regiment was in the division command-d by the late bold and chivalrous Nelson, and was with that General in his march to Sparta enn., when he was ordered back to Mc From Bowling Green we were ordered to report to Brigadier General Manson at Lebanon, Ky., so here we are for the present. Since our advent here we have marched to Hall's Gap, in Lineoln county, after the vagabon-guerillas of Scott, Pegram, and Ashby, bu rithout success. However, we are ready nove against these hordes at any time, an woe be unto them if ever they come within range of the rilles of the boys of the 20th Ken

Lieut, Col. Chas. S. Hanson is now the com mander of this regiment, Col. Bruce being or active duty. No regiment can boast of a braver officer. THE EMBARGO ON SHIPMENTS -In our per ambulations yesterday we took occasion t broach the subject of a meeting-as suggested | by us on Saturday-of the merchants of the city, with a view of raising the embargo which has so prostrated business in this part during the past few months. We found a general disposition on the part of our mereantils community to favor the idea, but we failed to meet any who could be prevailed upon to move in the matter. We would now enggest that several of our most prominen merchants meet in committee, and obtain the signatures of all who favor the object, and present them to the Mayor of the city, with the request that a meeting of the mer cantile community be called by him, to convene nt the Court-house, or some other public place, for the purpose of peti tioning the agent vested with authority t relieve us of this incumbrance, if compatibl with the interests of the country. We fee confident that such a voice will be heard b him, and we owe it to the great number of our people now out of employment to take such steps as may be deemed most advisable to ac complish this important end. The recent sus pension of our lobacco manufacturers ha thrown a large number of operatives out of employment, and they are debarred from every other branch of business in consequence of this embargo. If business continues suspend ed much longer we may reasonably expec suffering and want amongst the laboring classes. If the true state of affairs existing is this city at present is properly laid before the official agent of the Government by tho hody of our merchants, there is every reason to be live that we will be relieved from this apparently unnecessary incumbrance forthwith was trust that every merchant who has any egard for the interests of this place will mov lively in this matter, and urge a meeting of

The Union speaks in the most enthusiast terms of the lecture on Garibaldi and the Italian Question, delivered by Professor Jones, in Nashville, on Saturday night. We hop that measures will be teken to secure a hearing of this admirable orator in this city. I has been a long time since the people of Louisville have had the opportunity of heuring such an orator as Professor Jones.

Arrangements have been made by this line to check baggage from our the cause its members had espoused, he bade city to all points of connection, thus increas ing the facilities for comfortable travelling.

We are informed that gangs of boys organized into regular bands, prowl about the city of nights, committing all kinds of depredations. We recently heard of a very respect able lady in the city having caught a hopeful young son who had been absent from home for several weeks, having slept in barns during his crusade. This affords an excellent field o operation for our police, and we trust they may avail themselves of it, and silenco the many complaints we have heard recently regarding these boys.

SPEAKING IN JEFFERSONVILLE.—Colonel C. L. Dunham speaks in Jeffersonville, Ind., this evening, in Ewing's Hall, on the condition of the country. Col. D. is one of the most eloquent orntors in the country, and his speeche are always characterized by sound logic and profound statesmanship. We hope our neighbors will turn out in force this evening and hear this worthy champion of the Union cause.

We have heard bitter complaints against government teamsters racing on Broadway, and we were informed yesterday that a lady with a child crossing the street narrowly escaped death through the wanton recklessnes of these drivers. Will the proper authorities give this little matter their attention? Captain Harry McDougal, of the Missiesippi flotilla, will leave this city to-morrow for General Grant's headquarters. Any letters for persons connected with the flect will be delivered by him, if left at Capt. T. M. Erwin's office, before Capt. McDougal's departure.

Fins.-Three barges loaded with hay were set on fire last night and cut loose from our wharf. They floated on the rocks, and burned in a few minutes, illuminating the city brilliantly. We believe they belonged to the Government.

For the past three weeks I have been trave For the past three weeks I have been travelling through the central counties of Kentacky, and have had an opportunity of ascertaining, to a considerable extent, public senting in the accounties in regard to the action and movements of the Union Democratic Convention held on the 18th ult. in your city, It affords me high gratification to state, that, after the most diagent inquiry in every town and usighborhood in which I have been, I have not found on the William of the Union party who has not expressed his unqualified approach.

who has not expressed his unqualified approval of the Union ticket, and his determination use his best efforts and influence to seem its ucce 3. I also made inquiry of intelligentlemen, whom I met from neighborhood gentlemen, whom I met from neighborhoods and portions of these counties which I could not per, enally visit, and they assure me that they know no Uzi on man who would not support the ticket.

The opposition which your "neighbor" a cudeavoring toget up a sinst the Union ticket hidd so have or apport but with a few disappointed politicians and excessionists. the opposition to the ticket. They regard it we the opposition to the ticket. They regard it we the work of secession and its sympathizers in this State, and are determined to crush it only giving the Union ticket the largest vote by giving the Union ticket the largest vote ever given at any election in An ust next.

I had the honor to call on this gifted and distinguished nominee for Governor, Joshua F. Bell, this evening. I found him laboring under severe indisposition, which had confined him to his bed for the elay, and from which, I tent, it will require him one days to recover. No doubt this is the cause which I is prevented him from publicly responding to the letter of the President of the Couvention infuring him of he nomination as a candidate.

In Governor.

I find the second hympath.zers, a well second damppointed politicians, everywhere have some damppointed by Mr. Reil's acceptance.
